

Finally, An Important Message Regarding Your Interest In Witchcraft From Rose Ariadne – And The “Unveiling” Of The “Rose Ariadne Witchcraft Blog”!

Dear Friends,

Some time ago, we connected through your interest of Witchcraft... and I promised you something.

The truth is, you have not heard from me in awhile, and I have a big apology to make. Not only do I owe you an apology, but I owe you a big “thank you”, which I promise you will absolutely love (and one that will change your life through Magick – if you let it)...

I am going to give you the apology tomorrow, and in this same message I will start preparing you for the “thank you”.

It Has Been A Very Long 9 Months Of Hard Work For Me, But Your Magick Will Benefit From It Soon...

I know that all of my hard work is going to pay off for everyone who is reading this – and I know it will change your life for the better. I can't wait to tell you all about it! (I can't tell you about it now because I want to make sure the "finished touches" go as planned...)

Anyway, I am going to send you a series of newsletters that I have prepared...not only will I begin to tell you about the life-changing Magick secrets I have put together...but I am going to sprinkle each newsletter with various Witchcraft techniques, spells, and rituals that I uncovered in my Grandmother's Attic a few years ago (which is another story all together!)

For now, I'd really love it if you went to my brand-new Witchcraft Blog. It is very simply called, “The Rose Ariadne Witchcraft Blog” (that makes sense doesn't it? 😊)

Not only will I send my upcoming newsletters to you through email, but I will also be posting them on the blog (along with a few stories about Magick that I'll never send through email – you can only see them on the blog).

There are a few things you can do on the blog that you can't do anywhere else, and here they are:

1. You can post a “comment” under each of my blog posts – you can ask me questions, give comments, or even comment on other people’s comments. It is a great way to keep in touch with me, and everyone else in our community. (to do this, just look underneath any blog post and you will see a "comments" link. Just click it to see other people’s comments and make your own - it’s so easy!)

2. In the upper right corner, you can sign up to get automatic “email updates” every single time I post a new message to my blog. I love to tell stories about my past, and some amazing things I have seen happen with the power of Earth’s hidden energies (Magick energies). I will even post mp3 files which contain interviews I have done in the past on various subjects within Witchcraft. (I have had hours of recorded phone conversations - interviewing my friends about Witchcraft - and sometimes they interview ME...very tough questions about Witchcraft, but I think I did ok!) Anyway, I want to share these phone interviews with you, and I promise, you will be completely surprised by this "panel" of experienced Witches and what they have to say...

I'll start posting the interviews on the blog next week, one at a time...and each one will be followed by a short quiz to make sure you understand some of this extremely important (and sometimes privileged) information.

All you have to do is put in your first name and email address in the small form in the upper right corner of the blog, and every time it is updated, you will be notified through email. I'll update the blog once or twice a week, so it shouldn't be “too much” for you...(of course for these next 2 weeks, I will be updating it almost every day, but then I'll slow down because I don't want to completely overwhelm you)

3. You can also subscribe to my “RSS” feed...and don't worry if you have no idea what RSS is. You don't need it...but if you DO know what it is, you can easily subscribe to the RSS feed on my blog in the upper right corner as well (you'll see the orange “rss” logo). If you don't know what RSS is, there is a link in the right hand column of the blog where I teach you all about it...

In a nutshell, RSS is just another way you can be updated whenever I post new information about Witchcraft to my blog...

You can visit my blog now at <http://www.rose-ariadne.com/> where I have posted a special little welcome message just for you! (and there is also an exact copy of this email...I want the blog to contain everything I ever write)

Tomorrow, be ready for my personal apology to you, and preparation for a big “thank you” I am going to give...mostly for you being patient with me – I uncovered some very private material on ancient Magick and it changed everything...you'll see...

Until Tomorrow!

Bright Blessings,

Rose Ariadne

Your Warm and Caring “Resident Witch In Charge”

P.S. Make sure to see the Welcome message I have for you at my blog :
