Dear Friends,

Finally, we are ready with the newest interview clip on “Can Magick Bring Peace And Happiness Into Your Life?”...

I wanted to have this all finished and up for you on Wednesday – but it just wasn't meant to be, and I'm sure it has happened for a reason.

Make sure to listen to the interview here:

...and as always, this newsletter will be dedicated to the same topic.

I Think The Answer To This Question Is Obvious To Everybody

If you have ever really truly been connected to your Magick energy, you know how it can change your life... how the world takes on a certain clarity – like the sun shining through the clouds after a freshly fallen rain.

In truth, peace and happiness of the soul is the biggest part of Witchcraft and Magick. You are connected with the “root” from which all life stems – the “life force” of the universe.

A Story About Ash Rowan

Ashes story illustrates how you will feel peace and happiness around you, before you even begin your spell casting. You see, it's not the Money, or the Love Magick brings that makes you happy... happiness comes long before that – the moment you touch your Magick energy for the first time.

I've known Ash for almost 2 years now – he lives in the same town I do.

You see, 2 years ago he was “stuck” in a job he absolutely despised... he worked as a computer programmer for a large corporation. It was the kind of place where you become one of the pawns in a large chess game – you become one of the “sheep”.

Of course, not all big companies are like that – but that’s how Ash felt. He was desperately unhappy – and extremely lonely.

To him, the place where he spent 9 hours a day, was cold and lifeless. He wanted more out of life... and to make matters worse, he didn’t have “faith” or “belief” in something bigger than us.

So, without belief in a greater good, stuck in a cold blooded 6X6 cubicle, his life falling apart around him (there were many other problems he was facing at the time)...

...He Was On The Verge Of A Nervous Breakdown!

He felt that his world was closing in around him... until a special friend (who I know well) told him to contact me.

I listened intently to his story, his problems, his lack of faith in himself and the world. I said nothing... I just listened. I knew he just needed to get it all out.

I invited him to meet me for lunch at a local “greasy spoon” restaurant. That’s when I told him about what I believe in – and of course, I was careful not to try and “convince” him of anything. I simply gave him the information about what Magick is, and how it helped me with my own life.

To put it very simply, he listened to every word – and I saw a glimmer of hope in his eyes. After I had finished with my story (and Magick), the barrage started...

Question after question, asking about spells and rituals and the deities... we ended up having a great time and became close friends. The question and answer session we did was interesting, and I realized he was more in touch with his spirit and deep soul than I thought.

To make a long story short...

Ash Had A Natural Affinity With Magick

I gave him some “Magick exercises” to start off with. He easily learned what Magick was – and how to tap into it’s energies.

Almost immediately he began to feel a certain “peace” and comfort come into his life. It’s truly amazing how a simple connection with Magick energy can change your outlook on life – and it usually happens quickly.

That’s when Ash started working through spells that eventually changed his life. From a run down bachelor, struggling through every day in quiet desperation – to a happily married man with a nice house and his first child on the way...

...oh, and a job he truly loves – working for me! You see, Ash does have a talent with computers, and he is responsible for putting up my websites, doing interviews, and even answering a few questions from time to time.

Magick transformed him, and made his life exactly what he wanted it to be. It didn’t happen “overnight”, but it happened quicker than you might imagine. Things started changing for him within weeks.

And in the end, the answer is...

“Yes, Magick Brings Peace And Happiness”!

And it will “work” for anybody who tries... it is the “base feeling” for Witchcraft and Magick.

In the next issue, I will be sharing a heart warming story with you about how Magick, quite possibly, saved the life of a child.... and of course, the Friday Evening Rant will be up on the blog tomorrow...

Until then...

Bright Blessings,

Rose Ariadne
